LIQUOR COSTS MAN HIS PAROLE

RENO, Nev., July 18.—H. Bond, serving an eight-year sentence for burglary, committed at Tonopah five years ago, was paroled by the board of pardons, in session at Carson this week. An hour after Bond had discarded the felon's stripes and walked a free man in the capital city he began drinking and was soon in a helpless condition. Two well-meaning strangers placed Bond aboard a train and sent him to Reno.

In the meantime the board of pardons heard of Bond's behavior, revoked its decision and ordered that Bond be returned to prison. Captain of the Guard Miller hastened here and found Bond last night. He had sobered and was repentant, but it was too late, and this morning he was returned to the penitentiary to complete his sentence.

NEW GOLD BELT IS REPORTED

Another discovery has been made quite lately of a belt of free gold ores. So far as explored this belt is one-half to a mile in width and from three to four miles long. There is a perfect network of veins, with a multiplicity greater than at Hornsilver. The gangue is a beautiful quartz with much visible gold, and it is rich in value. So much so that no assays have been made for the eye can discern that its value is way above a fair milling grade.

While it is not in Hornsilver district, it is not quite fifteen miles distant. Its exact location will not be given out at present, or until all the claims, now located, have been properly monumented. It is judged that some good placer ground is contiguous. Those who have seen the new belt say that the surface showings are very good and they expect big things.—Hornsilver Herald.
